

Going to Tokyo Aquarium

by Yuki Y

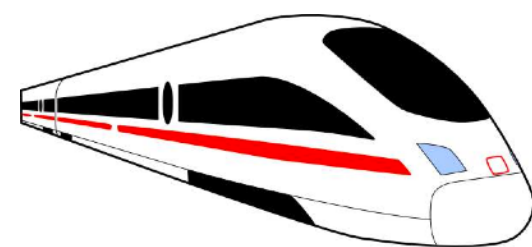

Yuki woke up, his alarm was beeping.

“Oh no, I’m late! I need to catch my plane!”

He got dressed quickly and ran out the door.

He chased after the bus, but it was too late, he missed the bus.

“I know, I’ll take the bullet train!”

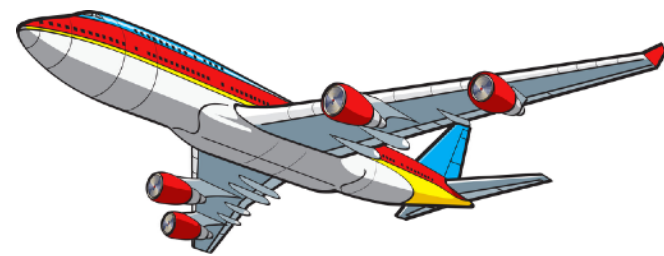

He ran to the station, and got on the bullet train just in time.

“Whew.”

He arrived at the airport, where Tom was waiting for him.

“You made it, let’s go!” said Tom.

They got on the airplane and one hour later they were in Tokyo.

They went to the aquarium first, and saw yellowfin tuna, bluefin tuna, a shark, eels, and a dolphin, wow!

After the aquarium, they went to sushi train, and ate swordfish until they were full – then they rode a ferris wheel, and could see all of Tokyo!

Then it was time to go home, they called Tomomi who picked them up on a helicopter, and they flew back to Osaka.

The end.
